Brakeman Loses Life In Train Collision

A Work-Train Crashes Into Engines Standing on the Track, Killing Brakeman Instantly

A sad and fatal accident occurred on the G. T. P., early last Friday morning, when E. R. Markell, of Cornwall, Ont., a brakeman on a work train was instantly killed about three a. m. The train while coming north ran into two engines that were standing on the main track at Ardley, about twenty miles south of here. The engine was backing up drawing its train, and Markell, the head-end brakeman, was sitting on the pilot of the engine, next to the engine was a box car, and behind it a long string of flats. The train was travelling about ten miles an hour, and when the impact came the box was thrown on the front of the engine, crushing Markell almost beyond recognition. Two of the engines were disabled and the other was taken north for a doctor. The wrecking crew was sent down from here to clear the track.

Coroner Dr. Sharpe, of Lacombe held an inquest on Saturday and a verdict of accidental death was returned. The remains were interred in the Alix cemetery.

The deceased had only been working a few months, and he leaves a wife and two children, one of whom he has never seen, it being only a few days old.

WANTED.—A smart boy or girl to learn typesetting. A first-class opportunity for the right person. Apply at THE JOURNAL office.

Winter Rye Over Six Feet High

A fine sample of Winter rye was brought into THE JOURNAL office on Saturday from the farm of W. Cook, several miles north of Mirror. Some of the rye measures six feet in height while the rest will average over five feet. Mr. Cook has fifteen acres in crop and the whole field shows a luxuriant growth and will be ready to harvest within a week or so. The seed from which this crop was produced, was grown on the farm of G. J. Estell, South Buffalo Lake, who states that this variety of Winter rye never fails, and the yield will average from 25 to 45 bushels to the acre.

Mr. Cook has also 40 acres of barley that measures 36 inches. The heads are well filled and the field promises a very heavy yield. The sample is an elegant one and the proprietor should get good returns for his investment.

This is only an instance of what the soil in this district will produce and before the season is over there should be many more specimens heard. The reports from all over the district are most encouraging. There has been enough rain to last for the balance of the season and the crops everywhere could not be bettered. The weather in the last week has taken a decided change for the better and crops should ripen to perfection. It is estimated that this year will see a record in grain production all through Western Canada, and this section of Alberta will certainly do her share in making that record. Stock of all kinds is in a 1 condition, and the shipment in this line of the farming industry will see an increased output over any previous year.

MIRROR, ALTA., AUG. 1, 1912

ELECTION OF A COUNCILWithin the next week it will be up to the ratepayers of Mirror to elect a council. In considering the men who shall be selected to represent the council, it is most desirable, and essentially important that these men should be broad minded, men who can familiarize themselves with detailed and minor matters of arrangement, and also men who are able to see ahead, act wisely and to fight unflinchingly for broader and better ideas.We are at a point in our town's history which is moreimportant than appears on the surface and which may be misled by the unthinking individual.
It is well that we should give this situation more than ordinary consideration. We are surrounded by a district second to none; development is proceeding about us apace, and what we are going to be is according to the temper of the people of the town and their representatives.Let us ask ourselves, what are we going to be? Shall we be content to always be a place of the village class or shall we aspire to be greater? To be one is easy. To be the other requires men who are competent to see ahead and act wisely.
Shall we have men who may be sincere, but who are lacking in foresight, who are quite without vision? Or shall we have men who, through thick and thin will preach the tidings of advancement and who cannot be discouraged overin the face of such apathy and thoughtlessness as we see so much of around about us.The constructive period of Mirror is only beginning. There is much yet to be done. The advantages we have and the fertility of our district must be made known to the multitudes who are coming into the West every year. We must lay our foundations broad and deep.
Let all then lend a hand and help with the ship almighty, victory and success which awaits us and which is ours if we will only strive for it.The nomination to be held next week will be a grand opportunity for our townspeople to show their unanimity, to elect the first Mirror council by acclamation. There is not the slightest doubt but what each and every member will work for the advancement of the town, and it remains for the ratepayers to nominate men who are fully competent to handle the civic business intelligently.Let Mirror's first council be elected by acclamation.MR. ADVERTISER!Advertisers, who, as a general rule with all country newspapers, form the chief mainstay of the publication's support, too often consider that their advertising is but so much charity thrown in the direction of the publisher and without it the paper would die a natural death.
In many respects this is true, although it should not be presumed that a newspaper is an object of charity. Rather, it should be considered in the light of support and co-operation and that without these the newspaper would cease to exist.When a merchant looks at it in the light of charity he perceives that the particular new-paper on which he is bestowing his donations, is worthy of such and is really an asset to the town. Otherwise he would not be so foolish as to throw away his good money on something from which he received no return. But the argument of charity is all wrong and should not be entertained in the mind of any live advertiser, who believes in the modern system of running his business.Another thing that places the newspaper in somewhat of an insignificant position is the advertising which is allowed to run for months without any change in it's set-up. In the first place, it reflects a small estimation of the advertising columns and lightly presumes that the space is of little value. Too often it is the case that some will claim that their advertising does not pay. How could it pay if the particular merchant failed to keep his fresh store news before the people who read the paper? If the merchant paid as little attention to his custo-mers as in many cases he does to his advertisement, he would very soon be compelled to close his doors.Here then is the humble suggestion we offer. Of course it means more work for the printer to change advertisements, but we are desirous of making these ads. pay. Advertisers should change their ads. at least every alternate week in order to get the best results. Those who have tried it even in this paper, admit that their money spent in this manner brings results which in many cases surpasses them.EDMONTON EXHIBITIONThe hanger issued by the Edmonton Exhibition is attracting a great deal of attention, and a few words of description may be of interest to readers. The photograph of His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught is used by special permission, this being the only occasion on which the Duke has allowed his photograph to be used for advertising purposes. Beside the Duke stands Mayor Armstrong, of Edmonton. Hon. R. Borden is recognized at the extreme right of the picture, and beside him stands Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture for the province of Alberta.The bull is Gainford Marquis, owned by James Watt, Salem; this bull was first in his class and junior champion at the Toronto exhibition and the International at Chicago last year.
The hanger is recognized as one of the most attractive gotten out in Canada this year, and will be mailed free to anyone applying for it.The Edmonton Exhibition dates are from Aug. 12th to the

WHAT CANADIANS ARE DOING

J. E. ARMSTRONG

Mr. Armstrong, who represents East Lambton, Ont., is one of the young men who were returned to the recent parliamentary elections. During his last term he was chairman of the joint office committee of the Conservative party, and is a recognized authority on all points connected with that important department of the public service.

J. E. ARMSTRONG
Represents East Lambton

Mr. Armstrong, in business, is an oil producer, manufacturer and farmer and started his political career in 1896, when he was an unsuccessful independent candidate, but was returned at the election in 1904. He was born in York County, Ontario, in 1864.

Dr. EUGENE QUENNEL

A Present Case? Politician

Dr. Quennel of Hawkesbury is not inexperienced in politics. He ran as an independent candidate for the Federal House in 1906, when he failed to get the Conservative support expected, but succeeded in polling 1868 votes on the strength of his personal appeal.

Born at St. Eugene, in June of 1867, educated first at Alfred Village school and then at the Bourget College, Quebec, he graduated bachelor of literature, science and arts from Laval University, Quebec, and then got his medical course at the College of Medicine and Surgery in Toronto, graduating M.B. in 1892.

The doctor started practicing in Lockland and Sudbury, and in 1891 he moved to Hawkesbury, where he became so much of a useful man in public affairs, that in 1907 the people chose him Reeve of the town and in 1909, 1909 and 1910 elected him Mayor, using his majority terms, Dr.

Quennel was instrumental in putting the town in its present excellent condition. Under his guidance Hawkesbury first took its place above the average of places of its size.

Dr. Quennel is married, his wife being formerly Miss Josephine F. Porter, of Pembroke.

Dr. D. O. ALGIRE

A Stormont County Democrat

A man of great personal magnetism, if modest demeanor and of most democratic ideas, Dr. Algire of Cornwall is popular with all classes in his home county, where, during most of his thirty five years residence, he has taken a keen interest in Sunday school work, as a leading member of the Presbyterian Church, and has taught a Sunday school class for the past thirty years. He has also been active in the work of temperance propaganda, and has proved a valuable man for those who seek to minimize the effects of the drink evil. Nor has the doctor forgotten his duty as a man who realizes the value of education, and he has been a hard-working member of the Cornwall High School board for many years.

Born on a farm in Stormont County in 1852, Dr. Algire, after a brilliant career in the elementary schools, studied at McGill University, Montreal, from which he graduated M.D. in 1873.

In 1874 Dr. Algire went to Cornwall, where he has since that time practiced medicine. The acknowledged head of his profession in his district, he has found time during his residence in Cornwall to take his share in the public responsibility which comes to the man of exceptional character and attainment. He has been twice mayor of Cornwall, his last term being in 1899.

Criticism Is Easy

Criticism is so easy a task that anyone, no matter how unskilled, can do it without effort. The man in the gutter can criticize the saint—but that does not lift him an inch out of the gutter. When Thales, away back in classic times, was asked what was most difficult, he replied, "To know one's self"; but when he was asked what was most easy, he answered, "To criticize another."

Breaking It Gently.

The shopman may have been impatient, but no doubt the customer smiled in spite of himself.

"How do you tell bad eggs?" asked the young housewife.

"I never told any," replied the shopman, "but if I did have anything to tell a bad egg, I'd break it gently."

It is the opinion of some to think our lives are guided by what others could say of us, but that is not so with the pure and noble the conscience holds the reins of action.

How to Get a Change.

When it is impossible to move a congenial into different surroundings for the sale of a change more the furniture and pictures of the room into different places. An invalid often tires of seeing the same pictures and ornaments in the same places week after week. Change the position of the furnishings, and it will seem almost like moving into another room.

THE MOTH MILLER.

Watch Out For This insidious Little Destroyer.

We are all familiar with the moth miller seen flitting about in the early dusk during late spring and early summer. If when a closet door opens a number of these moths flutter out we may rest assured that mischief has been brewing there. Not that this moth itself has done or can do any injury. Its work is to lay the little white eggs in fur or wool, wherever it can find a place. These eggs hatch twice during the spring and early summer into tiny grubs or caterpillars, and they do the mischief.

Almost the first work of the caterpillar after hatching from the egg is to eat holes in the material on which it sits. With that wool or fur it eats is spun a little sheath or cocoon, and this sheath shows as the insect grows. After awhile it leaves its cocoon and hatches into a moth.

The period of development depends upon the temperature. In this climate there are two hatching times in one season. But the insect is sensitive to cold and does not develop unless the temperature is above 50 degrees; hence has come the practice of placing furs and valuable rugs in cold storage, where, if already infected with eggs, no hatching can take place.

It behooves all home keepers to put all winter clothing away early—before these little pests get busy. In houses that are kept too warm there is danger of constant hatching of eggs. But, as a general rule, they do not hatch till early spring.

To prevent all moth eating clothing should while the days are yet cool be thoroughly cleaned, brushed and aired in the sun and whipped so that any eggs may be dislodged. They should then be put away in some way that will keep the air from them.

Paper bags sealed at the top and boxes with covers sealed with strips of paper are best for furs and feathers. Newspapers and cotton cloths are excellent to wrap garments in, as moths will not touch either.

Carpets and rugs need particular attention and should be given frequent beatings in the sunlight. Many people spray all clothing with gasoline before putting away for the summer, and carpets and rugs may safely be treated in this way. Camphor and moth balls are of absolutely no use if eggs are in the garments when they are put away. The only use of camphor is that it repels the moth by its odor and no moth will go near it.

Tomato Seed Oil.

Tomato seeds, once a waste product of the canneries of Italy, are now made to produce an oil, the rapid-drying quality of which is said to be excellent. The oil is used in the making of varnishes. Italy has many large tomato canneries, and in that country it is customary to carefully remove the seeds before canning the fruit. The canneries in the Province of Parma alone can 54,000 tons of tomatoes annually, and now have an output of 600 tons of the seed oil.

Mirror 'Brownies' Win Double-Header

Two Exciting Games at Tee-ee-Mirror Takes Both by Scores of 12 to 11, and 7 to 6

The Mirror 'Brownies' journeyed over to Tsee last Tuesday and carried away 1st and 2nd money in the baseball tournament. The two games were played with the Clive aggregation, and the Mirror team won both games in the last innings of each one, by timely hitting, when hits were needed and good base running. Both teams made an error or two at critical moments, but this only added a little spice to the games. The Mirror trio of slab-artists, Huesman, Hookes and Simpson pitched fine ball, and with a little better support would have hung up a record. U. Hookes as receiver caught everything in sight. The Clive battery Boston and Willows put up a good article of ball.

In the afternoon game the score was tied in the 2nd and 4th innings. An error by the Mirror infield in the fifth when two men were down allowed Clive 4 runs. At the end of the 7th Clive was leading by 11 runs to 4. In the eighth Mirror went to bat and hammered the cover off the sphere, notching a quartette of tallies, and again in the ninth they landed on the pill with mighty clouts and drove in 3 more runs, winning by one run. The game was full of sensations all the way through and the spectators had plenty to cheer for. The teams:

The game in the evening was a seven-innings affair and the best game of the two. Clive strengthened up in the weak spots, but nevertheless failed to down the Mirrorites. The score was tied in the 1st and 2nd innings; Clive took the lead in the fourth, tallying three runs, making the score 6 to 4 in their favor. The fifth was a no-run inning for both teams, but in the 6th Mirror scored one run, and again in the 9th the Brownies forged to the front and notched two runs by good safe hits, winning the game by a score 7 to 6. Clive was handed three big noughts in the last three innings, although they had men on 3rd sack in two of the innings. The line-up:

WEEDS OF ALBERTA

Bulletin No. 1 of the Weed and Seed Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Edmonton is available for distribution, and any farmer may obtain a copy free by writing the Department. It is an illustrated work on the Common Weeds of Alberta giving brief descriptions and well executed drawings of the weeds found commonly on our farms, particularly those classed as "noxious" under the Noxious Weed Act, besides which are given the best and latest methods for eradicating each weed under the different systems of farming followed. This bulletin has been prepared by Angus McKenny, B. S. A., and C. E. Lewis, B. S. A., of the Department of Agriculture staff, both of whom have made a scientific study of the weeds of Alberta and the most practicable methods of controlling and eradicating the same. Particularly valuable are the methods outlined for getting rid of weeds, the methods advised being those followed by the most successful farmers and advocated by the weed experts and inspectors of the Department. Every farmer in Alberta should have a copy of this bulletin from the Department of Agriculture, Edmonton. It is free to everyone. Write for it.

TRAIN LEAVES THIRTY MINUTES LATER

A change in the time of departure of the passenger train leaving Mirror went into effect last Monday, July 29th. Train No. 11 now leaves Mirror at 7 a. m., Camrose at 9:20 a. m., and Telford at 10:35 a. m., arriving at Edmonton at 12:10 noon.

This change will give passengers on the C. P. R. line east of Camrose a closer connection and faster service into Edmonton, and will doubtless be taken advantage of.
